Dakota Dunes Country Club Internship

History

Dakota Dunes Country Club is South Dakota's only Arnold Palmer designed golf course. DDCC opened on August 14, 1991 and has hosted 10 professional golf tournaments, for example the Nike and Buy.com Tournaments, on what is now called the Nationwide Tour. An estimated 3,000 spectator's watched Arnold Palmer play on his newly 18-hole designed course in celebration of the grand opening of DDCC.

About

DDCC has T1-Alpha (bentgrass) greens, tees and fairways. The course is interwoven within the upscale Dakota Dunes community with half the holes having prairie design and the other half run through the dense woods of 100+ foot tall cotton woods. Adding to the challenge of managing such an expansive property is that six of the holes lay on black dirt and the other 12 holes lay on river sand. This is a great opportunity for interns to learn how to manage turf at the highest level while facing many unique environmental challenges.

Responsibilities

Interns will work closely with the Superintendent, Assistant and Irrigation Tech. on a daily basis. Interns will get hands on experience with daily course setup, chemical and fertilizer applications, aerification, irrigation repair and many other course renovation projects. This is a great opportunity for interns to learn about the daily operation at a high-end private club with a demanding membership.
