Aviation Abroad

Exchange Programs

Exchange programs allow students to pay in-state tuition and fees for courses taken at universities abroad.

Brisbane, Australia
University of Queensland

Founded in 1910, the University of Queensland (UQ) is one of Australia’s premier learning and research institutions. Although UQ does not offer courses in aviation, it features world-renowned programs in the sciences and engineering that could satisfy the prerequisites of some aviation majors. UQ’s main campus is located in the picturesque inner-city suburb of St Lucia. Bounded by the Brisbane River on three sides, and less than five miles from Brisbane’s vibrant city heart, this 285-acre site provides students with the perfect study research and living environment.

$17,438.00*

Oestrich-Winkel, Germany
EBS Business School

Since its inception in 1971, EBS Universität für Wirtschaft und Recht (EBS University for Business and Law) has been consistently ranked among the top universities in all German national university rankings. With a clearly distinguished profile, Aviation students will learn in small groups by first-rate professors. In its founding, it was the first private higher education institution for business studies in all of Germany. EBS Business School is situated among the vineyards of the Rheingau, in the romantic valley of the River Rhine, which with its medieval castles and monasteries, and its beautiful landscape is recognized as a world-heritage site by UNESCO. EBS is currently open only to Aviation majors.

$10,278.00*

Melbourne, Australia
Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology (RMIT)

The Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology (RMIT) is one of the top ten universities in Australia, with highly-ranked programs in aviation, business, engineering, and the sciences. The surrounding city of Melbourne is a diverse, multicultural city with a great variety of entertainment, ranging from cultural events and sporting events to fantastic live music. Students can enroll directly at RMIT if they are unable to secure an exchange placement in this competitive program.

$9,111.00*

Sydney, Australia
University of Sydney

The University of Sydney, founded in 1850, has built an international reputation for its outstanding teaching and as a center of research excellence. As a result, it is ranked consistently among the top universities in the Asian-Pacific region and the world. It is also a key member of the Academic Consortium 21, which encourages global cooperation for the benefit of higher education and world and regional society. Like UQ, Sydney does not offer aviation courses, but its stellar programs in the sciences offer great opportunities for students to satisfy prerequisites.

$15,592.00*

*All listed costs are estimates that include tuition, fees, insurance, housing, and food for one semester abroad. Courses are taught in English, unless otherwise noted.

Go Abroad on a Budget!

Compare the estimated average* budget for a semester at K-State with the cost of a program to get a sense of how much more—or, sometimes less—you may pay if you study abroad. And don’t forget to apply for some of our many scholarships!

In-state tuition for Spring 2014 (15 credit hours)

$3,915.00

Fees and insurance (health care, rec center, etc.)

$978.00

Housing (double occupancy residence hall at Manhattan campus)

$3,880.00

Transportation

$500.00

Miscellaneous expenses (social activities, parking, etc.)

$1,900.00

Total

$10,373.00

*Kansas State University Office of Admissions, 2013

Affiliated Programs

Program providers organize study abroad programs that offer additional assistance throughout your international experience. These programs are offered for various lengths of time during the year and provide a more structured experience, often with cultural activities and excursions.

Academic Programs International (API)

Academic Programs International (API) offers a selection of programs in Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. For the most current program details, visit www.apiabroad.com.

College Consortium for International Studies (CCIS)

The College Consortium for International Studies (CCIS) offers many programs in Africa, Australia and the Pacific, East Asia, Europe, and Latin America. For the most current program details, visit www.ccisabroad.org.

CIEE

CIEE coordinates programs in Africa, Asia, Australia and the Pacific, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. For the most current program details, visit www.ciee.org.

Globalinks Learning Abroad

Global Links Learning Abroad features programs in Australia and the Pacific, East Asia, Europe, and Latin America. For the most current program details, visit www.globallinksabroad.org.

International Studies Abroad (ISA)

International Studies Abroad (ISA) organizes programs in East Asia, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. For the most current program details, visit www.isaabroad.com.

University Studies Abroad Consortium (USAC)

University Studies Abroad Consortium (USAC) facilitates many study abroad programs in Africa, Australia and the Pacific, East Asia, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. For the most current program details, visit usac.unr.edu.

Brisbane, Australia
Queensland University of Technology (QUT)

Although established in 1965, Queensland University of Technology is one of Australia’s top ten universities. Its history reaches back to 1889, as it consolidated several technical colleges to become a major comprehensive university. QUT is also notable for offering a variety of aviation courses for international students, along with general education courses that may help satisfy prerequisites or electives. Located on a large urban campus in the capital of Queensland, it provides students access to everything from Coral Sea beaches to koala sanctuaries to the Great Barrier Reef.

$17,710.00*

Direct enroll programs, like exchange programs, offer you a more independent experience. These programs are generally for a summer, semester or year, provide additional options for students, and tuition and fees are paid directly to the partner university.

“4 My favorite part would be meeting many amazing people and traveling with life-long friends that I will always stay close with.”

--Daison Batanger, Seville, Spain