

The Hard Hat

28 April, 2005

www.ksu.edu/agcsc

Kansas State University

President
Vice President
Secretary
Treasurer
Dir. Of Public Relations
Dir. Of Chapter Activities

Brett Allen
Jason Snider
Peter Alexander Kelley
Bill Linn
Cody Showalter
Matt Schafer

BJA5555@ksu.edu
Snider@ksu.edu
PAK3333@ksu.edu
Bill@ksu.edu
CTS5555@ksu.edu
Schafer@ksu.edu

Today's Seminar

Today's speaker is Marc Steadman, Vice President of Construction for Target Corporation, a publicly owned company based out of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Marc oversees all aspects of construction including new stores, remodels, distribution centers, corporate facilities, procurement, and technology development.

Prior to joining Target Corporation 15 years ago, Marc has held various construction positions for big box retailers in Irvine, California and Kansas City, Missouri.

Marc is a 1978 graduate of Kansas State University receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering. Marc is a registered civil engineer with over 26 years in the retail industry and a member of the Private Industry Advisory Council to the Associated General Contractors of America.

Please give a big K-State welcome to Marc Steadman of Target Corporation!!!

A boy goes off to college and after the first semester he's run out of money. In fact, he's so broke he doesn't have enough money to call home, or to even send a letter. However, he manages to find a postcard with a stamp already on it. He sends the following message, "Send. More money." Here's how the message reads: from left to right, "s-e-n-d." Directly below those four letters, is the word "more." To the left of "more" is a plus sign. There is a line underneath those two words, and under that is the word "money", with the "m" under the plus sign, and the "y" under the "d" and "e" in "send" and "more."

You with me?

The question is, how much money do they send him? Believe it or not, there's only one solution.

If you know the answer, please write it on the back of a $20 bill and drop it by the AGC mailbox, care of Peter Kelley

Awards Banquet

The 29th Annual Awards Banquet for the Department of Architectural engineering and Construction Science and Management will be taking place on Friday, 6 May. Tickets for the banquet are still available in the Department office. If you have applied for a scholarship, it is VERY important that you be there. Because if ya don't, too bad, no scholarship for you. All officers and award nominees also must attend.

Construction Science News

50 of you old guys and gals in Construction Science and Management will be graduating in 2 weeks. We would like to congratulate all of you and wish you all the best of luck with your careers. By the way you're all invited to the Senior Send-Off which is at the "oldest Pizza Hut in the world" right after seminar. If you're not graduating no free pizza for you.

Chris Allen
Matt Baker
Chaz Balthazor
Colt Balthazor
Jason Barnett
Timmy Bensman
Brett Bickford
Mike Brocato
Nichole Chiaverini
Scott Copeland
Chad Davis
Luke Doll
Christopher Eichman
Tyler Ellis
Erin Eskie
Brandon Fisher
Aaron Girard

Nicholas Grebel
Krista Grebel
Mike Hatstrup
Kevin Huber
Kassie Inness
Eric Johnson
Eric Just
Evan Krause
Clinton Law
Ed McGlinn
Doug McGrath
Dustin Minor
Allen Moe
Cedric Montgomery
Cody Nelson
Josh Nesbit
Brandon Ostmeyer

Angela Perry
Brian Peterson
Rebecca Rager
Colin Ratliff
David Reed
Brian Roberts
Chris Schmidt
Levi Schneider
Roy Soldevilla
Sam Tamasese
Johnnie Taul
Chris Thurlow
Ryan Vogts
Warren White
Dustin Wieggers
Jeremy Ziegler

