

Student Learning Outcomes General Education Standards

Secondary Education

Teaching Standards

1. The educator uses the modes of effective communication including listening, viewing, and speaking to promote active inquiry.
2. The educator demonstrates an understanding of world cultures.
3. The educator understands the role that mathematics plays in everyday life, is able to use basic mathematical and statistical concepts in solving the problems of everyday life, and is able to communicate with others about these concepts.
4. The educator understands the natural world as interconnecting phenomena explained by scientific processes and understands the responsibilities of being stewards of the natural world.
5. The educator understands the importance of physical, emotional, and social well-being.
6. The educator understands the importance of the fine arts in contemporary society.