The Senior Survey is designed to give undergraduate students the opportunity to reflect upon their K-State experiences. This information is used to improve the university experience for future students by identifying strengths in our programs as well as areas that need further development. The survey includes issues relating to satisfaction with K-State regarding academic programs, intellectual and personal growth opportunities, student services, and preparation for a career or a graduate/professional school. This summary report provides an overview of some of the results of the report, identifying strengths as well as areas that could be improved. A link to a copy of the survey and the complete university survey report can be found at the end of this report.

Areas for Improvement

The following questions and responses have been identified from the university survey report as possible areas to improve. We used two criteria to identify areas for improvement. First, we looked for items with the highest rates of reported dissatisfaction or where students were unaware of the service/facility. Second, certain areas were excluded from this analysis, such as the Collegian and Royal Purple Yearbook, as they are not central to the academic mission of the university. Based on these criteria, the following areas were identified as potentially needing improvement.

Educational Experiences

- Although satisfaction with advising has increased over the past five years; still, nearly 12% of respondents did not feel they received high-quality advising within their respective major.

- Over 13% of respondents felt that they did not receive support within their major to find appropriate employment or pursue a graduate degree.

Educational Progress

- 24% of respondents reported very little or no progress in understanding and enjoyment of the arts as a result of their experiences at K-State.

- Over 23% of respondents rarely or never interacted with faculty members outside of the class time.

- Over 1/6 of respondents reported very little or no progress as a result of their experiences at K-State in:
  - Developing good health habits and physical fitness
  - Improved graphic and technological communication skills
  - Developing the ability to evaluate the merit of scientific and technological claims by using facts, ideas and theories related to living systems and the physical world

- 15% of respondents reported very little or no progress in becoming aware of different philosophies, cultures, and ways of life as a result of their experiences at K-State.
Satisfaction with Services and Facilities
Includes only those who used the service or facility

- Nearly 1 in 5 respondents were dissatisfied with the service provided by the Office of Student Financial Assistance.
- 25% of respondents were dissatisfied with Disability Support Services.
- Over 1/4 of respondents were dissatisfied with the service provided by the Lafene Health Center.
- Approximately 80% of respondents were dissatisfied with the parking availability on campus while 52% of respondents were dissatisfied with parking services, and more than 1/3 of respondents were dissatisfied with parking facilities (maintenance, appearance, etc.).
