

CREATING SAFE ZONES AT K-STATE

K-State wants to provide a safe and equitable environment for every member of our community. The training offered through this At-Risk Program is being promoted for this first year by the SafeZone Program and supported by funding from the Student Government Association, Housing & Dining Services, and the School of Leadership Studies. It is our hope to eventually have this resource available to all of our campus community.

The SafeZone Program

The SafeZone program (Students, Administrators and Faculty for Equality) was created to easily identify persons, programs, and services that have made a special commitment to enhancing the quality of the K-State environment.

By placing the SAFE ZONE symbol on their office door, desk, or backpack, trained SAFE ZONE allies signify that their space is a safe place to talk about issues which impact people who have been affected by any type of hateful or homophobic act, or who have been affected by sexual violence, sexual harassment, or any criminal or distressing situation. Allies help those in need to find resources for support and assistance.
