

EPSILON SIGMA PHI

The Extension Professionals' Organization

Donna Martinson, Editor

Notes from the President

Marie Blythe, President, Alpha Rho Chapter

My thanks to each of you for choosing to be a member of the Extension professional development organization that represents us all! Our strength is our annual and life members who chose to be involved. If you have ideas you believe should be part of our chapter work, please share them with your council directors or any of the officers. Our next Board meeting is scheduled for June 28.

In February, Trudy Rice and I represented the chapter at the North Central Joint Council of Extension Professionals (JCEP) Leadership Workshop in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. This meeting gave us the opportunity to connect with the National Board, meet ESP leaders from across the region, and exchange ideas and information. It was great to learn from other chapters, share some of our chapter's recent success, and learn more about the direction of the national organization. We also learned about the recently updated "benefits package" membership brochure: <http://espnational.org/2005ESPBenefitsBrochureRevised11032004.pdf>. Because we frequently have the opportunity to respond to questions about the benefits of membership, I would encourage you to take a look at this brochure.

March 3rd and 4th, we experienced another successful United Associations meeting. This opportunity to engage with the other association members not only updates our subject matter but especially enhances our relationships among professionals seeking similar long-term intended outcomes! We experience the benefits of this meeting, personally and professionally, as well as the monetary benefit to each of the participating associations, largely due to the contribution of facilities by the Sedgwick County Extension Service!

Trudy Rice represented our chapter in April at the Public Issues Leadership Development Conference in Arlington, Virginia. Congratulations to Trudy on receiving one of four $600 National ESP Scholarships to participate in this event! This year, Trudy, the other representatives from the Kansas agents' associations, and also four members of the State Extension Advisory Council enhanced their public policy skills, learned about the changing political climate, and visited with Kansas legislators. In addition, Daryl Buchholz, Fred Cholick, Sue Peterson, and Chuck Otte (National Ag Agents) participated in this year's conference. Look for Trudy's summary elsewhere in this issue.

Those who have attended know what a great professional development opportunity the National ESP Conference is. This year's conference is scheduled for November 9-12, 2005 at THE BRO^ADMOOR in Colorado Springs, CO. With the National ESP meeting being within driving distance to this luxurious site (with discounted rates!), we hope members (annual and life) will plan to attend. The theme for the meeting is "ESP - Colorado Gold." We anticipate an outstanding lineup of keynote speakers and concurrent sessions offered to enhance leadership and technical skills needed by extension professionals to face the challenges of today and tomorrow. This year's program also includes a track for Life Members. Program and registration information is available at <http://espnational.org/05conf.htm>. Another incentive to attend this fall, was the opportunity to apply for one of four scholarships through the ESP Professional Development committee that will cover registration ($375). These scholarships, the result of an endowment fund grant, are especially targeting first-time attendees. Look for a related item elsewhere in this newsletter announcing the scholarship recipients selected by the Professional Development committee.

An additional perk this year is that we can share our personal congratulations with Dick Wootton as he receives the National Distinguished Service (Ruby) Award! So let's have a significant Kansas presence in Colorado in November!

The mission of Epsilon Sigma Phi is to foster the standards of excellence in the Extension System and to develop the Extension Profession and Professional.

NATIONAL ESP CONFERENCE
"COLORADO GOLD"
COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO
EMBER 9-12, 2005

Attendance at a national conference can be inspiring, informative, and just plain fun. 2005 "Colorado Gold" promises to be just that. The three keynote speakers have intriguing titles for their presentations: "Zoom-Boom or Drift: Futuring for Extension" (addressing emerging trends and futuring issues); "Thriving in the Multi-Generational Workplace" (changes & challenges of having four generations with distinctively differing values working together); and "June Cleaver Never Fried Bacon in a Bill Blass Dress" (what to do when you can't keep up).

For the scholarly, there are concurrent sessions and poster presentations. For the communicators there will be opportunities to explore new tools and technologies to enhance the outcomes of Extension programs. For those who like to make their communities the best possible place to live, there are sessions on strengthening communities through Extension programs. And, of course, there will be recognition for excellent programming.

Early registration for the 2005 conference is due August 15. For a complete conference agenda, tour and registration information, and many more details go online to <http://espnational.org/2005NationalMeeting/>

K-STATE RESEARCH & EXTENSION ANNUAL CONFERENCE

OCTOBER 17-19, 2005

Kansas State University Campus
Manhattan, Kansas

Watch for the schedule of events. With a three-day conference, the usual times of many annual gatherings have been rearranged.

SPRING BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

The Epsilon Sigma Phi Alpha Rho Chapter board met March 4 in Wichita and by phone during the United Associations Conference.

Stacey Warner reported that the portraits of past Extension directors are now all of a uniform size and hung together just inside the main entrance of Umberger.

A committee of Fred DeLano, Stacey Warner, Bob Neier, Roger Terry, and Carl Garten were appointed to make a recommendation of what to do with the funds from registration of members to the United Associations Conference.

There continues to be concerns about the future of the loan program. Should it be a loan or a scholarship? A committee is to deal with these issues and make recommendations.

ESP will offer to be the lead organization for the All Associations Awards banquet at annual conference.

The full text of the meeting minutes may be viewed at the website.

Thanks to Jan Stephens, ESP secretary.

RETIREE GROUPS MEET THROUGHOUT KANSAS

Retiring from K-State Research & Extension does not mean leaving the great friendships you have formed through the years behind you. Extension retirees gather at several locations in Kansas to renew those important friendships. Picnics and tours are just some of the activities they enjoy. Retirees who coordinate these get-togethers include Glenn Bussett in the Manhattan area; Dixie Molz and Mae Weaver in the Hutchinson/Great Bend area; and Nonie England in the Wichita area. Contact information for Glenn, Dixie, Mae and Nonie is given in the retiree address section. If there are other formal or informal groups of extension retirees getting together, let Donna Martinson in Geary county (dmartins@oznet.ksu.edu, 785-238-4161) know and we'll include that information in future newsletters.

Fred Delano, retiree chair, plans to attend the national conference to gather more ideas to strengthen retiree connections. Retirees are sure to hear more about this at their annual conference get-together.

Fred also reports that the retired farm management fieldmen get together now and then. Their last gathering was in Abilene and featured a tour of the Flint Hills for international guests.

EPSILON SIGMA PHI LOOKING FOR A FEW GOOD PEOPLE

Della Baker, ESP Second Vice-President, say, "Please consider serving on an ESP National Committee." The process for applying to be on a national committee is listed on the <http://espnational.org> website.

Do you need more information? Contact Della Baker at baker@clmson.edu

NOW IS THE TIME TO THINK ABOUT AWARDS

Each fall notification is sent to all Epsilon Sigma Phi - Alpha Rho members to nominate themselves or others for recognition. Now is the time to think about co-workers (or yourself) and the innovative work that has made a positive difference in the lives of Kansans. Perhaps an individual has continuously inspired you by serving as a model extension worker. Maybe a newcomer to Extension has been successful by using a new approach to address a challenging issue. Still, there may be others who have contributed what they do best to a team effort and have achieved great results.

Nomination forms for awards are on the oznet.ksu.edu/ESP-AlphaRho website. Download the forms anytime you have a couple of minutes. Then start filling in the blanks. Nominations will be due to Danny Rogers, awards committee chair, August 30.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

The Professional Development Committee has been active in accepting and reviewing applications for scholarships to attend the National ESP conference this fall in Colorado Springs. Three annual members and one life member have been selected to receive these scholarships made possible through a grant from the Alpha Rho endowment.

Receiving scholarships to attend the national Epsilon Sigma Phi conference are life member Fred DeLano; and annual members Diane Mack, Laurie Chandler, and Mary J. Sullivan. The scholarships are made available through the Alpha Rho endowment grant program. This is a great way to help current and life members to attend the national meeting to help keep them connected nationally and to help them to grow as Extension professionals.

Bob Neier, Chair

PILD 2005 April 16-20, 2005 Crystal City Marriot Washington, D.C.

During the 20 plus years that I have been an extension professional I had always heard of the PILD workshop held each spring in Washington, D.C. and many times put it on my "to do" list. However, until this year it always got replaced with something that I perceived as "more important." This year I learned that I had not been making the best choice. Thanks to the National Foundation of Epsilon Sigma Phi I received a travel scholarship to attend and I will be forever grateful for the experience.

Public Issues Leadership Development (PILD) is an excellent opportunity not only to network with other extension professionals but, also to better understand the bigger picture of our organization as it relates to USDA and the Congress. As a result of participating this year I have a greater understanding of the federal funding formula and it's impact on state and county programming. This year PILD held an extra bonus in that extension volunteers from many states were in attendance.

It was a pleasure to attend PILD with the Kansas delegation this spring. One of the highlights was the fact that the Dean of Agriculture and Director of Extension, Fred Cholick and Sue Peterson, legislative liaison for Kansas State University, were not only part of our delegation, but they were also on the program to help the participants better understand the legislative process and the importance of educating legislators on our program impacts. It was great to see the leadership from Kansas highlighted and the support from the President's and Dean's office for K-State Research and Extension and the federal Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service.
