3:45pm – 4:15pm	Campus Bookstore - Follett  David Phillips Assistant Manager - Course Materials dphillips@follett.com 785-532-0728  Rhonda Darrow Store Manager 1336mgr@follett.com 785-532-0702  820 K-State Union	Discussion of the textbook links in iSIS and our previous agreement with Varney's to provide students with information from multiple vendors for the purpose of comparative shopping.  Follett uses VERBA to provide the same information to students, but currently iSIS is not linked to this application. Follett has agreed to modify this behavior to meet the same standard we had set with Varney's. We will follow-up with David Phillips later in the semester.  David Phillips is very willing to visit with each unit on campus to meet with their faculty to facilitate feedback and to promote the reporting process and requirements.  Of interesting note, the Follett bookstore in Salina is a separately owned and managed operation with its own unique contract. We will need to address this in order to ensure a uniform solution for all Kansas State University students regardless of campus location.

4:15pm – 4:45pm	Catalyst Technology and Media Services  Dennis Devenney Director dennis@k-state.edu 785-532-5926  16 Bluemont Hall	College of Education and iPad Initiative  Dennis Devenny gave an overview of the adoption of iPad technology in the College of Education.  The iPad Initiative appears to be a successful endeavor with adoption rate of over 60% and is expected to grow.  Additionally, the College of Education has produced several ebooks to facilitate the adoption and use of the iPad.
4:45pm – 5:00pm	Updates / Other All	There is a sense of lack of communication to faculty and staff regarding the process of the Office 365 migration and expected timeframe and changes.  Don Crawford has recommended more representation for faculty and staff on the Office 365 steering committee. Lisa Shubert and Brian Lindshield have been nominated to serve on the committee.
