

TIMELINE – MID-CYCLE REVIEW PROCESS

The following process will be followed in developing the Mid-Cycle Review Report:

End of January

Graduate School meets with the coordinator(s) from the departments who have programs that are designated for Mid-Cycle Review to discuss the timeline, formats for the report and answer any questions.

End of March

Programs will receive a copy of the Board of Regents' (BOR) Statistical Overview Report.

End of April

Programs meet with Graduate School to discuss Statistical Overview Report and Summary Data Sheets.

End of September

Program submits the Mid-Cycle Review Program Review Reports (PRR) to the Graduate School Dean and copies to the College Dean(s).

End of November

The Graduate Council Assessment and Review Committee, in consultation with the Dean of the Graduate School will meet to discuss, review, and prepare list of changes, comments, or additional documentation needed for the reports. The appropriate program representative may be asked to attend the session when the reviews of degree programs are presented.

End of December

Graduate School Dean provides feedback to the Deans and programs regarding the outcome of the Mid-Cycle review of the programs.
