Dear Kansas State University Employee:

We are pleased to announce that the K-State Division of Human Resources and the Teachers and Employees Association are jointly hosting educational seminars on long-term care insurance. These sessions are open to all faculty, staff and their extended family members.

Long-term care insurance pays for home health care, assisted living and nursing home care to help people with the functions of day-to-day living like bathing, dressing, toileting, transferring and eating. Also covered are services related to rehabilitation, chronic illness and cognitive impairment.

We have chosen long-term care insurance specialists Legacy Services, Inc. to conduct these seminars. See schedule on the back of this letter. Here are some of the topics that will be covered:

- What do long-term care insurance policies pay for?
- Learn how to get the best value for your money when purchasing coverage.
- Learn how Kansas' Partnership program benefits policyholders.

Legacy Services also provides one-on-one consultations to help you select the options best suited to your situation. Consultations are available by appointment – see schedule on the back of this letter. During these personal meetings, a long-term care insurance consultant will advise you on the following:

- Determine if long-term care insurance makes sense for you.
- Discuss what plan design is right for your situation.
- Get specific pricing information.

Legacy Services is an independent agency. They offer individual policies from the major carriers with a wide range of options that allow you to customize coverage to fit your needs and budget. Certain health conditions may affect eligibility. Any coverage selected will be paid for entirely by the employee and will not be eligible for payroll deduction.

To schedule a one-on-one consultation or for any other questions, you may contact Legacy Services at 1-800-230-3398, ext. 101 or via e-mail at custsvc@4groupitci.com.

We encourage you to become informed about the issues of long-term care and hope the education provided will be beneficial to you and your family.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Gehrt
