

The University Honors Program Abroad

Kansas State University in Italy

May 22, 2019 to June 22, 2019

Would you like to travel to Orvieto, a historic hill town in central Italy, while satisfying Honors requirements? The UHP and KSU in Italy have partnered to offer an Honors study abroad option for Summer 2019, allowing Honors students to earn 6 hours of Honors credit by taking ANTH 399 and one other course (options listed below).

Honors Seminar in Anthropology (ANTH 399)

Contemporary Italian Cultures

Instructor: Dr. Jessica Falcone

This course will use ethnographic material to understand contemporary Italian cultures. Students will look at how traditions, identity, heritage, and religious practices are affected by changing demographics and globalization. Special anthropological attention will be paid to cities that students will visit: Florence and Rome. More specifically, students will learn about how various Italian subcultures are adapting to a globalized economy and a more diverse citizenry, the dialogue between heritage and change in contemporary Italy, and contemporary social life and culture in Florence and Rome.

Course options to pair with ANTH 399:

ART 628 - History of Italian Art and Architecture

MC 589 - Photography and Visual Storytelling

HM 499 - Food & Wine of Italy

Total Estimated Cost:

Program Fee: $3,400 | Tuition: $1,925 (6 credits) | Estimated additional expenses, including airfare, meals, etc: $2,835

Application Deadline

Priority Deadline: December 1, 2018 | Final Deadline: February 1, 2019

Interested? Contact Education Abroad by stopping by 304 Fairchild hall or emailing overseas@ksu.edu for program details. For questions regarding the course contact Jessica Falcone at jfalcone@ksu.edu