Limited submission programs have sponsor restrictions on the number of proposals that may be submitted by a single institution and will require institutional screening to determine which applications will be submitted. Dr. Jim Guikema, Associate Vice Provost for Research, is the internal coordinator for limited submission programs. Please notify him at 785-532-6195, email: guikema@ksu.edu, by the Internal due date listed in the Funding Bulletin (FB 18-9) or by at least two months prior to the sponsor deadline if you wish to submit to a limited submission program. GENERAL

18-1 Decision Making Under Uncertainty Collaborative Groups (DMUU) (NSF)

The Decision Making Under Uncertainty (DMUU) collaborative groups competition offers awards to support teams of researchers who will advance fundamental understanding of decision making under uncertainty for climate change and related long-term environmental risks. The focus of these collaborative groups should be to provide new knowledge about how public officials, firms in the private sector, other groups, and/or individuals can incorporate existing knowledge about climate change and related long-term environmental risks into their decisions. In addition to generating societally useful information and tools, DMUU collaborative groups should enhance basic understanding within and across the social and behavioral sciences as well as related science and engineering disciplines. 18-2 Pesticide Environmental

Stewardship Program (PESP) Regional Grants (EPA)

EPA's Office of Pesticide Programs (OPP) in coordination with the EPA Regional Offices, is soliciting proposals to further the pesticide risk reduction goals of the Pesticide Environmental Stewardship Program (PESP). Proposed projects must address implementation of integrated pest management approaches that reduce the risks associated with pesticide use in an agricultural or nonagricultural setting and demonstrate the importance and relevancy of the project to the goals of PESP. The EIPMDSS created and maintained by the successful applicant will help these programs establish and communicate IPM research, education, and extension priorities; allow a diverse group of stakeholders to obtain access to selected program outputs; compile LOGIC model based program reports; and synthesize program impacts. 18-8 Glory Science Team (NASA)

The Glory mission will continue and improve on NASA's research on aerosol forcing on climate change. The measurements produced by this mission and the scientific knowledge such observation will provide are essential to predicting future climate change and to making sound, scientifically based economic and policy decisions related to environmental change. Aerosol and cloud measurements will be made by the Aerosol Polarimetry Sensor (APS) and solar irradiance measurements will be made by the Total Irradiance Monitor (TIM). This particular solicitation requests proposals for the Glory science team, which will include foci on both APS and TIM related science. NNH09ZDA001N-GLORY (GG 3/4/09)

HEALTH & LIFE SCIENCE

18-9 Finding Solutions in Challenging Times (Sunflower)

Unlike other Sunflower Foundation funding opportunities, this Request for Proposals (RFP) asks the applicant to define and describe the need for funding. Rather than identify specific funding priorities, applicants are expected to make the case for their need. Except for the specific exclusions that apply to all grants, the foundation is open to reviewing requests that reflect the needs of organizations specifically related to the current economic downturn and its local impact on health, health care and human services delivery. The foundation will make awards based on a variety of factors, including the nature and urgency of the need described, geographic location of the applicant organization and the number of Kansans impacted by the service(s) offered by the applicant. Organizations may apply only once for funding under this announcement, regardless of which submission deadline is chosen. RFP 10-101

SOCIAL SCIENCES

18-12 Projects of National Significance: Family Support 360 Special Initiatives (ACF)

The Administration on Developmental Disabilities (ADD) within the Administration for Children and Families (ACF), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, announces the availability of Fiscal Year (FY) 2009 funds to award grants to plan and implement up to 15 Family Support 360 Centers for persons with developmental disabilities. The Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000 authorizes ADD to support the development of national and State policies that reinforce and promote, with the support of families, guardians, advocates, and communities, of individuals with developmental disabilities, the self-determination, independence, productivity, and integration and inclusion in all facets of community life. 18-13 Projects of National Significance: Family Support 360 for Military Families

(ACF)

The Administration on Developmental Disabilities (ADD) within the Administration for Children and Families (ACF), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, announces the availability of Fiscal Year (FY) 2009 funds to award grants to plan and implement up to five Family Support 360 Centers for persons with developmental disabilities. While many service programs are available in this country, human service systems often fail to meet the diverse needs of an individual with developmental disabilities and his or her family. A family may need several services, and many human service systems address primarily one need, such as health, education, or employment. These systems usually focus on one individual, not the person and his or her family. Military families usually navigate two systems- civilian and military. Family Support 360 Centers empower and strengthen families. HHS-2009-ACF-ADD-DN-0047 (GG 4/28/09)

18-14 Rapid Assessment Post-Impact of Disaster (R03) (NIH)

The purpose of this Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) is to provide a rapid funding mechanism for research on the post-impact of disasters, in order to permit access to a disaster area in the immediate aftermath of the event. Potential applicants are strongly encouraged to contact NIMH Program Staff before submitting a RAPID application to determine whether or not the proposed work meets the guidelines of this program, whether requested RAPID funding is likely to be available, and whether the idea should be considered for initial submission as a fully developed application. The RAPID grants described in this funding opportunity announcement are designed to provide a limited sum of money for early assessment to investigators who intend to follow up with a full research application, using the preliminary data from this initial effort as a basis for their larger application. This FOA will utilize the NIH Small Grant (R03) award mechanism and runs in parallel with an FOA of identical scientific scope, PAR-09-172, that solicits applications under the Exploratory/Developmental Grant (R21) mechanism. Applications should be submitted within approximately six weeks of the identified disaster event. PAR-09-171 (NIHG 4/24/09)
