

QuestionKansas State University Research Showcase at K-State Olathe
Spotlighting research capabilities, facilities and resources

The K-State Research Showcase will highlight infrastructure and faculty expertise and will facilitate collaboration by providing a venue for faculty and industry representatives to gain a better understanding of available resources. Attendees will have opportunities to identify and promote campus expertise, facilitate strategic relationships, and explore transformative collaborations.

Your information will be accessed by companies looking for services, equipment, and facilities. The information provided will also be included in the K-State Research Resources Database, which is in development. The goal of the database is to allow internal and external users to access information on K-State's research resources, including instrumentation, equipment, and facilities.
