ASSISTANT FARM PRODUCTION MANAGER

Fort Collins, CO

As we celebrate our 49th Anniversary in the turfgrass sod business, A-G Sod Farms, Inc. dba Greenlawn Sod Co. wishes to introduce our company...

Greenlawn Sod Company became one of the first growers of quality bluegrass sod in Northern Colorado in 1969. Locally, we have over 280 acres devoted to turfgrass production. And, in cooperation with our associate five farms in Colorado and California, we sold over 1380 acres of turfgrass in 2017. Our company is the largest and most progressive turfgrass growers in the Southwest. From our convenient locations, we can service customers in a five state area and Mexico. Plus, we are soon to expand to include another turfgrass farm in 2018.

ASSISTANT FARM PRODUCTION MANAGER

Full Time, Professional Position

The Assistant Farm Production Manager shall have the joint responsibility for all phases of turfgrass production phases from seed to harvest. Our current farm managers have B.S. degrees in agronomy and/or horticulture with turfgrass management. As a progressive company, we are looking for a motivated and goal driven team member that can lead with commitment.

As the Assistant Farm Production Manager, we desire that you are detailed oriented, focused and our team is unified. You will assist in the hiring and training of production personnel; in order that, they do a superior, quality oriented and a safe job of the tasks assigned to them.

As an Assistant Farm Production Manager, you will be asked to daily utilize your college, class room training to assist in developing a comprehensive knowledge of products and procedures as well as record all applications of seed, fertilizer and herbicide applications. You will be hands on and be able to learn all phases of production to include center pivot operation and programming.

Of note...

Greenlawn Sod Company has an immediate opening for this position –or- upon graduation. Our team can offer you an amazing opportunity, benefits and a very competitive salary to grow with our agronomic company that is expanding. The President of our company received his PhD in Engineering at Colorado State University, myself a B.S. having a double major in Agronomy and Horticulture.
