VII. President's Report: Carol Marden

All senators should take time to review the revised PPMs 4030 and 4035 concerning the appeal processes. The revisions more align with the original policy from when we moved away from state civil service. There were more changes done to the PRC than the Appeals Board. Implementation of these PPMs will be July 1 and training will be offered shortly thereafter.

There was an article in the K-State Today about the addition of 2 new positions which include an organizational move of OIE and Employee Relations. President Myers has asked for feedback. If you feel so inclined to do so, please take the time to provide that to him.

Carol received a letter from President Myers thanking us for participation in his inauguration. He was very thankful for all that our group did in making his day a special one. He thanked us for the warm welcome provided by our group as well.

The Furlough Policy has been posted. You may begin to hear rumors of furlough, as we do each year about this time. Please be assured that the university has enough money to make payroll. The university would like departments to have a plan in place to divert a similar situation of 2 years ago. That is all that the policy is, a recommendation to have a plan in place which is a best business practice. Department heads will be receiving a departmental guide for best practices in completing a furlough plan. One item in the guide is a 5 tiered method. Those who make the least will be furloughed less than those who make more. This would apply for an Administrative Furlough called by K-States Senior Administration. Again, I must stress there is no talk of furlough and its implementation, just an encouragement for departments to have a plan as a best practice.

This past month I have had many discussions with constituents about USS Evaluations. So many, that I called an executive council meeting to discuss the issues. The outcome of that meeting was to further investigate the issue. How many USS are impacted by bad or incomplete evaluations? Speak with HCS to see what their recommendation to departments and staff has been and then if there is a need, work toward a resolution. This information has already been brought forward to the VP of Administration and Finance and Acting VP of HCS. From preliminary reports, it appears that there is a need. Some of the issues presented were:

No objectives or goals provided.

No mid-year evaluation with just an end of the year evaluation being completed.

Changes to rating on the final evaluation from an unsatisfactory to meets when the employee has always received higher ratings with no prior discussions.

Multiple years with no evaluations being done.

Supervisors asking employees to back date meetings that didn't occur from the initial meeting to the mid-year meeting.

Supervisors asking employees to backdate signatures of meetings that may or may not have happened.

Employees completing their own evaluation.

Pam Warren and I met with joint leadership. Some of the issues that were discussed were as follows: Faculty and UPS are in favor of funding the employees who are under market. The idea was suggested to use city/university funds to fix up the natatorium. It is used heavily by the community as well as the university. The natatorium is also a topic for discussion of the efficiencies workgroup. It is not very cost friendly to keep this open, but they do recognize its heavy use.

The other topic that was discussed with many people and groups this past month is Total Rewards. I have heard little negative feedback from where people have been placed, but the titling has been a heated discussion. One comment was that an employee worked hard to achieve a 'Senior' title just to have it removed. Another comment was that it is confusing or misleading, when skimming for jobs the titles are too vague to encourage people to stop and actually read an advertisement.

Carrie Fink, Pam Warren and I will be traveling to Lawrence tomorrow to meet with the other Regent school's leadership. Topics that will be discussed include the comparison of net pay, furlough policy, issues with our evaluations and finalizing our mission statement for KBOR.
