- K-State's Social Work Program is very specific in terms of the courses that need to be taken junior and senior year because of the Practice Sequence. Most Social Work credits abroad do not transfer back equally because of the specificity. It is best to go abroad sometime sophomore year or during a summer. While abroad, it is possible to take a variety of classes in different areas to meet general education requirements, elective credits, or for a minor.
 - Freshman Year: Come into 304 Fairchild to learn more. If you want to go first semester of sophomore year you will need to apply in the spring of your freshman year.
 - Sophomore Year: Go abroad in either the fall or spring. If you go abroad in the spring, your deadlines will be in the fall before you go.
 - Junior Year: Go abroad during the summer before your junior year.
