Welcome home

Beyond the books

College is hard work, but life is all about balance. At K-State, you'll gain experience and insight, becoming a well-rounded individual who knows the future isn't just about a job, but about loving what you do.

Whether you run for student office, volunteer halfway around the world or simply start a club, the work you start at K-State will take you anywhere you choose. A K-State degree erases limits and puts you in charge of your future.

Pack your bags

From lush rainforests to snowy mountaintops, your education abroad opportunities are endless.

Live it up

More than 5,000 students choose to live in our 10 residence halls, on-campus apartment community and academic-focused housing. If you choose to live on campus, you'll find an ideal environment to transition from home to school.

If you're athletic (or want to be), join an intramural team. Need an academic boost? Utilize the on-site Student Success Centers. You'll have direct access to world-class dining services, on-site tutoring, lifelong friendships and an endless supply of activities.

Rest assured

There are tons of great reasons why so many students choose to live on campus, including security. On-campus living is packed with security features — like electronic door access and 24-hour staff — so you can sleep soundly and focus on your future.

No matter where you live, all K-State students enjoy peace of mind on campus. Whether you need a safe ride home or a dedicated ally, you'll spend less time searching for what you need and more time enjoying your experience.

Traditions

K-State traditions are hard to summarize — they're better experienced.

Like the "Wabash Cannonball," a series of rhythmic twists and bends that has been a staple at athletic events for generations, or a scoop of Purple Pride ice cream. Just try it — you'll understand.

Manhattan — or "The Little Apple" — is a storybook college town full of excitement, relaxation or the perfect combination of the two. Meet friends for a night out in Aggieville, enjoy a day on the water at Tuttle Creek State Park or listen to local musicians in City Park.

Whether on campus or off, two things are for certain: You'll find plenty of purple, and plenty of love for K-State students.

Each year, K-State awards more than $42 million in scholarships — aid that does not need to be repaid.

More than 80% of K-State students receive some form of financial assistance, whether in the form of scholarships, loans and/or work-study.

An investment with high returns

You know it and we know it: College is an investment, both of time and of money. But it's a sound investment. Lifetime earnings for college graduates are upward of $1 million more than those who do not hold an undergraduate or advanced degree, according to a recent national study.

At K-State, you will be assigned a dedicated financial assistance advisor who can help you manage your aid and build a plan that sets you up for future success.
