Ethical Reasoning & Responsibility and Historical Perspectives Survey

Administered December of Fall 2017 to all students enrolled in courses with this designated K-State 8 area.

Overall Results
Total Respondents: 1514
Total Ethical Reasoning & Responsibility: 530
Total Historical Perspectives: 1000

In your class, how much, if at all, did you learn about the following outcomes in the area of Ethical Reasoning and Responsibility?

- Recognizing the importance of social and/or environmental responsibility
- Considering the broader impact of my individual actions.
- Learning ways of resolving ethical dilemmas in order to be a responsible citizen.
- Understanding different standards by which human interactions may be considered right or wrong.
- Learning to make sound decisions when facing real-life ethical dilemmas.

[Bar chart showing the distribution of responses for each outcome]
In your course, how much, if at all, did you learn about the following outcomes in the area of Historical Perspectives?

- Understanding how the past has influenced or affected the present.
- Understanding how historical perspectives can be reinterpreted based on contemporary perspectives.
- Tracing current knowledge to its sources for insights into what we know and how we came to know it.
- Learning appropriate strategies to examine history.
- Realizing that the world we live in constantly changes.

Choose: Not Covered, A Little Bit, Some, Quite A Bit, A Lot.