Corporate Partners 2013-14

“Consistently, K-State has been one of our top partners in terms of volume and in delivering top talent. The relationship we have with K-State is key in delivering our demand, not only from an associate headcount perspective but also in our ability to deliver health care around the world. The reason we are able to do so well at K-State is because of the long standing relationship and partnerships we have with the University and CES. K-State students also have the education, attributes, and skill sets we seek and that successful Cerner associates possess. CES has always helped us in identifying ways to connect deeper with their students and is always willing to lend support where and when needed. The entire office is a pleasure to work with and “sets the bar” for all other Career Services.”
