

F1 – International Trade

L – Industrial Organization

Kansas State University invites applications for a tenure-track opening beginning August 2023 at the assistant professor level in the field of industrial organization or international trade. Candidates are expected to provide quality teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels, publish in leading journals, contribute to the Ph.D. program, and advise graduate students. The normal teaching load is two courses per semester.

The position requires a Ph.D. or expected completion by fall 2023. Candidates should have a commitment to work with a wide range of constituents and a diverse student population. Deadline for applications is November 15, 2022. Kansas State University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action employer, and actively seeks diversity. A background check is required for employment.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, sample of recent research, evidence of teaching effectiveness if available, a brief statement describing research and teaching interests, photocopy of graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation. Applications should be submitted electronically at
