Leadership Workshop Series
Presented in partnership by the Graduate School, the Staley School of Leadership Studies, and the Leadership Communication Doctoral Program

This leadership workshop series is open to any K-State graduate student who desires to develop their capacity to work with others and make positive change through their work, studies, and professional organizations.

Leading with Your Strengths
Wednesday, February 26, 2020
5:30 - 7:00 pm, Town Hall, Leadership Studies Building
Participants will learn a strengths-based approach that supports personal well-being, building positive relationships, improving engagement and fostering a positive workplace culture.

- Presented by: Mike Finnegan, Assistant Professor, Staley School of Leadership Studies & Kiley Moody, Managing Director, Scholar Services
- RSVP for in-person session by Feb 24: https://forms.gle/FRuKhouxgRcaDZU46
- Or join by Zoom: https://ksu.zoom.us/j/169927000

Developing Adaptive Leadership
Friday, March 6, 2020
3:30 - 5:00 pm, Town Hall, Leadership Studies Building
In our work and lives, we face many conflicts, challenges, and opportunities. To make progress requires us to think and act differently. In this session, participants will strengthen their leadership skills to manage self and mobilize others. Come prepared to engage!

- Presented by: Tim Steffensmeier, Director, Leadership Communication Doctoral Program & Tamas Kowalik, Graduate Research Assistant, Kansas Leadership Center
- RSVP for in-person session March 4: https://forms.gle/AmhHGkFJqHsNe78A
- Or join by Zoom: https://ksu.zoom.us/j/120541905

Civic Leadership and Citizen Scholarship
Monday, April 13, 2020
11:30 am – 1:00 pm
As members of the K-State academic community, our studies and work are situated – physically and virtually – within local and global communities facing complex challenges. We all play a role in the civic mission of our institution, to generate knowledge and talent to advance the well-being of those communities. This session will help participants explore their present and future work, and consider how relationship, dialogue, and practice can be an explanatory lens to make sense of citizen-centered, community-engaged scholarship.

- Presented by: Brandon W. Kliewer, Assistant Professor of Civic Leadership, Staley School of Leadership Studies & RJ Youngblood, Assistant Director, Academic Achievement Center
- Join by Zoom: https://ksu.zoom.us/j/376704032

Intercultural Leadership
Thursday, April 23, 2020
11:00 am - 12:30 pm
Leading across cultures requires us to intentionally recognize and address inequity in order to build a more socially just world. In this session, we will explore interpersonal and systemic elements of culture, power, and privilege and how these impact the practice of leadership and the creation of inclusive classrooms, labs, and workplaces.

- Presented by: Trisha Gott, Associate Director & Assistant Professor, Staley School of Leadership Studies & Mac Benavides, Graduate Research Assistant, Staley School of Leadership Studies
- Join by Zoom: https://ksu.zoom.us/j/603543552