

ASH LESLIE- MODERN LANGUAGES AMBASSADOR

My name is Ash Leslie, my pronouns are He/They, and I am a sophomore at K-State from a small town called Lecompton here in Kansas. Currently, I am double majoring in both French and Spanish with hopes to work in interpreting or translation later in life. I have not left the country before, however I plan to study abroad in, at least, France before I graduate. At this time, I am helping the club « Engineers Without Borders » and their plans to help build an irrigation system for a farming community in Nicaragua. Language has always been an interest to me because, as a kid, I thought it would be super cool to speak as many languages as possible so I could travel the world, and now part of that is becoming a reality in my studies.
