FREN 514: Contemporary France

A: 17617, TU 11:30-12:45

Dr. Robert Clark (rclark@ksu.edu), offers a survey of the historical forces (history, language, religion) and contemporary factors (immigration, multiculturalism, education) that have made the French Republic the complex society that it is today. A thorough treatment of these themes is complemented by several films on which students will write a series of reaction papers. Given in French.

Prerequisite: FREN 301 (French IV).