

National Public Health Week 2020

Education

MPH Faculty Member(s)

- ❑ Paige Adams, Research Assistant Professor at K-State Olathe and Ellyn Mulcahy, Associate Professor, Diagnostic Medicine and Pathobiology

Focus: Dr. Adams and Dr. Mulcahy are interested in identifying gaps in One Health coursework, and utilized A cross-walk analysis of one health and public health competencies to understand how they could identify gaps in the current one health and public health curricula.

- ❑ Nancy Muturi, Professor, Mass Communications

Focus: Health communication and the role of strategic communication in preventing communicable diseases. Dr. Murturi has most recently focused on childhood obesity in low-income communities.

Theme for Friday, April 10, 2020

National Public Health Week 2020

Cont.–Education

MPH Faculty Member(s)

- ❑ Ric Rosenkranz, Professor, Food, Nutrition, Dietetics and Health
Focus: School Wellness Integration Targeting Child Health (SWITCH) project that supports school wellness programming and contribute to youth obesity prevention. SWITCH is a project federally funded by Agriculture and Food Research Initiative, and is being evaluated as a registered clinical \(implementation-effectiveness\) trial.
- ❑ Dana Vanlandingham, Associate Professor, Diagnostic Medicine and Pathobiology
Focus: Development of a high-containment diagnostic laboratory workforce training program for working in a high containment environment.

Theme for Friday, April 10, 2020

National Public Health Week 2020

Cont.–Education

MPH Student(s)

- ❑ Anna Kucera, Anna is a concurrent DVM MPH student with interest in the crossroads of animal and human health regarding the environment and diseases. She is passionate about educating others about the importance of monitoring the interaction of health and environment.

Theme for Friday, April 10, 2020