Schwarzman Scholars

Purpose
To give outstanding students the opportunity to develop their leadership skills and professional networks, while achieving significant exposure to China, through a one-year graduate program at Tsinghua University in Beijing.

Award
Tenable
Students will live and study together at Schwarzman College within Tsinghua, a new facility constructed for the program. All classes will be taught in English. Students will earn a Masters in Global Affairs, specializing among three different tracks:

1) Public Policy
2) Economics and Business
3) International Studies

Can individualize focus within the three options. All scholars also complete a core curriculum (see website for specifics).

Number & Amount
Up to 200 students. Funding is comprehensive and generous. Includes a living stipend and travel expenses.

Duration
One full year.

Eligibility
Who
Between 18 and 28 (on June 30 of the next year). No citizenship restrictions. English proficiency required. 20% of scholars from China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan. 40% U.S. 40% all other countries.

When
Must successfully complete undergraduate degree prior to enrollment.

Selection Criteria
High academic aptitude and intellectual ability. Leadership potential and entrepreneurial spirit. Ability to anticipate paradigm changes. Exemplary character, and desire to understand other cultures and perspectives.

Campus Deadline
Not necessarily but notify Mr. Hohenbary ASAP of your intent to apply.

Deadline
Spring for students from China, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Macao. September for other applicants.

Application

Contact
Jim Hohenbary: Fairchild 215 / (785) 532-3422 / jimlth@ksu.edu.

Other
Read more at http://schwarzmanscholars.org.

If you are interested in China, also look into the Yenching Academy at Peking University: http://yenchingacademy.org/Home/Index/program. The Boren, Fulbright, and Critical Language awards also are potential sources of funding for study and/or research in China.

4/2/20