

We are pleased to announce that through a collaboration with Fulbright (IIE); Office of International Programs; Office of Research Development; and Scholar Development and Undergraduate Research, the following events are taking place on April 25th.

These presentations are featuring Julie Taylor whose goal is to increase awareness and engagement in the Fulbright Program to the K-State faculty, scholars and students. Julie encourages relevant deans, underrepresented faculty or student groups, and foreign language chairs to attend the morning session. We hope that you can take advantage of these opportunities to increase your knowledge of the Fulbright Program and all that it has to offer.

Fulbright Alumni from the U.S. and around the world, are encouraged to engage in these events. Alumni are the face of the Fulbright Program and we ask for you to help spread awareness of Fulbright opportunities by staying involved and this is one opportunity to do so.

Register HERE to show interest in one or more of these events.
