

Hello Steve:

My name is xxxxxxxxxx and I am hoping that you will be able to assist me with an illness that I have been experiencing for the past 4 months. It all began when my face broke out in blisters that became infected. I went to the dermatologist and was given a prescription of antibiotics. I took the medication and they somewhat cleared up but know later returned. I then made another doctor's appt. and this time I took with me, some samples of things that I either witnessed discharging from my lesions or foreign items I found inside my house that were never witnessed before. This doctor then diagnosed me with "Post traumatic syndrome" (from a case of lice that my daughter's school had a problem with.: I told him that "yes, I that I did gross out and for awhile constantly found myself looking at my surrounding's and body to see if lice was still present." But that I was over it and moved on. He then said take this medication and handed me a list of group meeting for individuals who experienced the same symptoms. I became very upset and left. Well since then, I have visited 3 different doctors (Kaiser???) and went on at least 10-14 doctor appointments. Only to return with no answers and with a slip stating that I am to continue my leave of absence. Oh, forgot to mention I took time off work because of the symptoms I was experiencing and the doctors could not diagnose me with anything but with a mental illness. If I was not suffering from a mental illness before, I am now. Well back to the symptoms, I break out in blister - they clear up then later return. I get these 1/4 lesions on my body that I have no idea where I got them. I bruise at certain locations (have no idea where I got them). I get these burning sensations on my scalp and when I look I at times locate a 1/4 string/fiber (white) thing in my hair. I have skin that peels in little pieces and sometime bleed - it just happens out of know where. I get these round skin like things that discharge from my body and when I look under a microscope I swear I see two eyeballs and somewhat of a mouth on them. I located stringlike lint on my body, eyes and clothes. Last thing, I am get these ball like things that I spit out of my mouth - somewhat crystal form. I have had white flakes (maybe salt like )discharge from my left and right hand at the same time (they rose from my pores all at once (hundreds) on two different occasions- this followed a somewhat shock feeling inside my body). My best friend lives down the block from my house and my husband and I noticed that she had eucalyptic trees all around her house and condo complex. when we closely studied the leaves, we noticed that they were infested with lerpes. I read that lerpes were a problem in Australia and it cause harm to the country and until now, U.S. did not have this problem up until an entomologist discovered the infestation in the City of xxxxxxxxxx (not too far). When I inquired the internet about the plant mites I somehow found your site. The disease these mites cause is called "Redgum lerp disease." Do you know the extent that this disease can cause to humans? I must mention my friend, my husband, and now my 5 year old daughter are suffering similar symptoms. I must tell you that I visit her house every day and use her pool & jacuzzi (lerpes are in them too.) I have since stop utilizing them. Any info you can give me would be appreciated, I feel as though I am going crazy because I know I have something but doctors just can't find out what it is. I believe I now have worms ...my doctor is requesting that I take a stool test next week-----hooray maybe they will find something!! I did neglect to inform you that our house had a problem with moths and beetles and we had to get it professionally sprayed.Please advise if you have any suggestions to the above info.
