

Spring 2026

POLSC 401A

POLITICAL ANALYTICS

Dr. Sabri Ciftci

MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, AND FRIDAY 10:30 - 11:20 AM

This course offers students a hands-on introduction to applied research in political science. Students will conduct original research, learn to visualize data, and prepare research posters for public presentation. Select students will be supported in submitting their work to professional conferences.

The course also supports student development through reflection, peer collaboration, and exposure to faculty-led initiatives such as the Middle East Studies Lecture Series and Global Politics and Coffee events. Students will also develop skills in writing clear and concise research reports, producing executive summaries of their findings, and using online interactive tools for data analysis to enhance their applied research experience.
