“First Fridays” Graduate Colloquia

2020/2021

All colloquia held via Zoom. Please contact Dr. Alisa Garni, Graduate Program Director, for more information (amgarni@ksu.edu).
Friday, October 2, 2020: Applied Sociology Panel with Graduate Alumni

- George Browne, Statistician in the Prosecution and Judicial Statistics Unit for the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS)

- Donya Karimi, Senior Research and Data Analyst at the Washington State Office of Financial Management

- Megan McCall, Coordinated Entry Manager, Rose Brooks Center (https://www.rosebrooks.org/about-rosebrooks/overview/)

- Jennifer Miller, Director of Health Promotion, Lefene Student Health Center, Kansas State University

- Allison Teeter, Assistant Director, Strategic Initiatives & Development Office of Educational Innovation and Evaluation, Kansas State University
Friday, November 6, 2020: Special Guest Speaker in Criminology

• Dr. Judah Schept, Associate Professor at the School of Justice Studies at Eastern Kentucky University, presenting “Cages in the Coalfields: Carceral Social Reproduction in Central Appalachia.”

Special thanks to the Adamchak Lecture Series for sponsoring this colloquium
December 4, 2020: Graduate Alumni Panel on Academic Careers, Publishing, and Public Sociology

- Sarah Donley, Assistant Professor of Sociology, Jacksonville State University
- Laura Logan, Associate Professor of Sociology, Hastings College
- Stacy Smith, Assistant Professor of Sociology, Michigan State University
February 5, 2021: Special Guest Speaker in Politics and Development

• Dr. Stanislav Vysotsky, Professor of Sociology and Criminology at the University of Fraser Valley in British Columbia, presenting “American Antifa: The Tactics, Culture, and Practice of Militant Antifascism”

Special thanks to the Adamchak Lecture Series for sponsoring this colloquium
March 5, 2021: Special Guest Speaker in Social Inequalities

• Dr. Tanya Golash-Boza, Professor of Sociology at University of California, Merced, on “Mass Deportation and Incarceration in the 21st Century”

Special thanks to the Adamchak Lecture Series for sponsoring this colloquium