

AMETH 352 Indigenous Perspectives: Myths, Legends, & Land

Dr. Spintz Harrison

MWF: 10:30- 11:20am

This course is presented from the American Indian perspective regarding tribal myths, legends, and lands. We will explore how these three concepts are intertwined. Popular myths we will examine include Sasquatch, Deer Woman, and Little People. We will also look at other, not so familiar myths and monster like Giants, Witches, Lake Monsters, and other creatures that go bump in the Kansas night. The class concludes with landmark Supreme Court Cases on reservations lands that established significant results such as the basis of a true religion, and NAGPRA standards.
